26 Persons Hurt in 14 Of Area's 37 Crashes

Auto Overtakes Along Canal Levee Causing Injuries to Seven

Rain showers that marred the weekend were blamed for an upsurge in traffic accidents in the Quad-Cities. Authorities recorded 37 crashes, and there were 26 injuries in 14 of the mishaps, including one crash along the canal levee in which seven persons were hurt.

Seven were hurt at 9:30 p.m. Saturday when a northbound auto driven by Wendell Tackett, 24, of 2131 Grand avenue slid off the road on the east side of the Chain of Rocks Canal levee and rolled down the east embankment. Tires had caught in ruts and the car skidded on gravel.

Troy E. Tackett, 16, of 2329 Paul avenue was thrown out and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a forehead hematoma and abrasion to her back, insinuate and abrasion to her chest and back. The driver was treated for a cut to his left elbow and abrasions to his left knee and chest, neck and head.

Also admitted were Miss Kathleen Gum, 16, Route Two, Colinsville, a forehead hematoma and abrasion to her back, insinuate and abrasion to her chest and back. The driver was treated for a cut to his left elbow and abrasions to his left knee and chest, neck and head.

Those treated and released included Charles Townsend, 16, of 2703 Kirkpatrick Homes, multiple puncture wounds and abrasions and a right forearm cut; Bill Davidson, 16, of 2408 East 24th street, neck and back injuries; and Ray Parker, 16, of 4307 Kirkpatrick Homes, left elbow injury.

The car of Freda Cain, Hartford, was knocked onto a sidewalk. The auto of Mildred Pines, Olney, Ill., was pushed over the wall and knocked down a stop sign. The car of Joe Provine, 1603 Kirkpatrick Homes, was thrown against an apartment in the wall and damaging a window and door.

Teamwork By Police Results In Capture Robber Suspect Nabbed In Venice 45 Minutes After Stickup in GC

Conspicuous clothing—a black shirt with white polka dots and a brilliant red vest—led Friday morning to the capture of a lone, knife-wielding robber at a holdup within 45 minutes after a holdup at the J & M Confectionery at 1737 State street.

An undetermined amount of cash, believed to be about $80, was reported taken.

The suspect, identified by police as Robert Miller, 25, of East St. Louis, had two more strikes against him by selecting the confectionery where he was known as a customer who traded there with some regularity, and who was known to his victim, Mrs. Thelma Smith, co-owner of the store, even by name.

The holdup at knifepoint occurred shortly before 10 a.m., according to Mrs. Smith, after Miller had been in the store earlier to purchase groceries. Mrs. Smith said he bought about $3 worth of merchandise, told her he had left his money at home and said he would go get the money and return.

Wearing White Shirt
She said he was wearing a white shirt on that trip to the confectionery. When he returned a short time later, Mrs. Smith related, he was wearing a black shirt with white polka dots and a bright red vest. He asked her to slice some more cheese and she returned to the counter from the rear of the store, Miller leaped over a gate by the counter and fled into the rear.

"This is a stickup," Mrs. Smith gave me the money."

She said he forced her at knifepoint to go into the rear of the store building. At first he said he was going to the her, but Mrs. Smith said she talked him out of it. He then went to the front of the store by the cash register, made change for a customer and fled from the store.

Just after a deliveryman entered. The other customer and the deliveryman, made aware of what had happened, went outside where they flagged down a motorcycle. Patrolman Gerald Pinkerton, who was on duty, broadcast the bandits' description by radio.

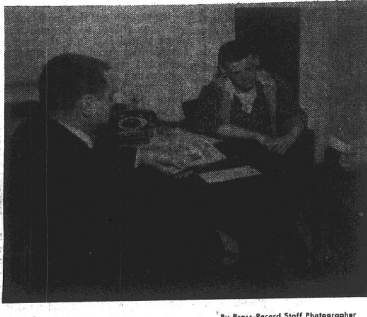

Patrolman Dewey Bravley of the Venice police department, who had received the description, saw Miller walking along Bissell at Klein street in Venice. He took Miller to Venice police headquarters where he was booked and released immediately to Granite City police.

Made Robbery Complaint
Chief of Detectives George Teller and Detective Joseph Nemeth, who had obtained details of the robbery from Mrs. Smith, questioned Miller after he was transferred to Granite City. Miller, the officers said, told them he has been living in East St. Louis, but refused to give the address because he did not want to involve the people with whom he has been living. Miller was arraigned Friday.

Safecrackers Get $600 At Water Co. Office Here

About $600 was stolen from a PM radio valued at $69 also was taken.

The safe, located in the front office, was battered and forced open, and chunks of concrete were broken off. The money was in four metal cash drawers. Entry was gained by forcing two rear doors.

Other thefts in the area over the weekend included:

730 Radio Stolen
A table model radio valued at $70 was stolen in a burglary at the home of Clara Inman, 2018 Palmer avenue, Saturday afternoon, she reported at 3:20 p.m. Sunday.

Entry was gained by breaking the glass from the garage to the breezeway and the door glass from the breezeway to the house.

A 19-inch portable television set, camera, white table radio and about $70 in cash were obtained by a burglar between 5 p.m. and 10:50 p.m. Saturday at the home Earl Dozauer, 3223 Wabash avenue. The intruder left through a side door.

All School Incumbents Returned To Office

255-Vote, 204-Vote
Victories in GC By
Dr. Walton, Macios

Quad-City school boards retained their same memberships in light voting Saturday, six directors running without opposition and two board members, Dr. Eugene W. Walton and Carl Macios of the Granite City board, defeating opponents.

Only 1919 votes were cast—1478 in Granite City, 288 in Madison and 183 in Venice.

In the Granite City district, the victorious incumbents were William L. Harris, unopposed for a one-year unexpired urban term, 1105 votes; Dr. Walton, three-year urban term, 808 votes; and Macios, three-year rural position, 743 votes.

Other three-year candidates were John C. Lakin, urban area, 553 votes; Morris W. Miles, rural area, 539 votes; and Henry J. Beadle, rural area 56 votes.

Unopposed in the Madison school district were three incumbents, John Belloc, 227; Harold Fisk, 233; and Chester McManaway, 250. Belloc is president of the board.

Incumbents re-elected, also without opposition, were Fred Durer Jr., 152 votes; and John Gonterman, 148.

Boards to Reorganize
Each board consists of seven members elected to staggered three-year terms. Vote canvassers and board reorganizations are planned for 7:30 tonight in Granite City and Venice and at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 18, in Madison.

The two Granite City races, particularly for the rural ramp, appeared to be somewhat close in early vote returns Saturday night. However, Dr. Walton had gained a lead in the polls, and of the 16 precincts reporting.

The final returns at 8:30 p.m. 90 minutes after the polls had closed, showed the two adding to their victory margins at the Niedringhaus school polling place.

Frohardt Turnout Largest
Cast totaled 17 in Madison, 19 at Lake school, 75 at Washington school, 24 at Logan 40 at Emerson, 60 at McKinley.

Dr. W. W. Billings May
Be Planning Retirement
Reports that Dr. W. W. Billings, of Alton, veteran Madison county coroner, is planning to retire from the post and that the office will go to one of two Granite City men were circulated today among reliable public sources.

Billings, it was learned, has requested a county audit of his records, and plans to retire soon.

$50 Per Meeting Pay Approved by Venice Aldermen

Venice aldermen who are elected to new terms in the April 13 city election will receive a per diem fee of $50 per meeting under an ordinance approved by the city council at a regular meeting Friday night. Aldermen now receive $25 per meeting.

Adoption of the new ordinance was based on a new Illinois statute permitting aldermanic fees of $25 per meeting in cities of less than 5000 population, $50 per meeting in cities of 5000 to 25,000 population and $75 per meeting in cities of 25,000 to 50,000 population.

Mayor John E. Lee said the new ordinance nullifies a present $25 monthly flat expense allowance paid Venice aldermen. He added that the city plans to adopt the new city fiscal year begins May 1.

As a result, the mayor noted, aldermen effected by the salary increase will not actually receive a full $25-per-meeting raise. On the usual basis of two meetings per month, aldermen will receive a total of $100 under the present $25 flat expense allowance. Thus the increase actually is $12.50 per meeting, moneywise, he said.

To Pay Actual Expense
Mayor Lee said that a resolution for payment only of actual expenses, supported by itemized accountings, will be considered soon, probably at the next meeting, April 21.

Four aldermen will be elected in the elections next week. State law provides that salary changes become effective only at the beginning of the new terms of all officials. Four of the city's eight aldermen, therefore, will continue receiving the $25 per diem pay until 1968, when the new terms begin.

Boat Ramp Finished
The council was notified that the new boat ramp, built on the north just north of the Union Electric Co. plant by the Illinois Department of Conservation, has been completed.

The council approved bills of $339 for the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab engineering firm and $19,805, both for work on the ramp. The bills will be forwarded to the state for payment.

City Engineer Harry E. Hartman was instructed to draw up an ordinance for stop signs at the north and south intersections of Washington street with Line alley.

William Mike Ebersold, city clerk, notified council members that Joseph Miller, owner of an old house at 901 Third street, has authorized the city to tear down the building, which is in a state of disrepair. Ebersold said he had been informed by a member of the city planning commission that the building will be torn down soon to make way for a new building on the site.

Approve Building Permits
Two building permits were approved, one for a three-room frame home to be built at 317 South Fourth street by Louis D. Dinick at a cost of $4000, and one for remodeling and a room addition at the home of A. J. Koenig at 14th and State streets.

Mental Health Board to Review Lease, July Move

The Quad-Cities Mental Health Society will occupy new quarters at 2024 State street, starting July 1, according to an announcement made Thursday afternoon.

However, it was learned today from Edwin Reske, acting chairman of the center's 21-member board of directors, that the signed lease is being held in abeyance pending a further discussion at a monthly board meeting Thursday night.

John Karoly of King Real Estate, who handled the leasing transaction for building owners, Morris B. and Thelma Lou Chapman, said extensive remodeling of the premises will take place prior to health center personnel moving into the building.

The health center's new clinic facilities, which formerly housed a bowling establishment, will be renovated and include 15 offices, incorporating private counseling and conference rooms, reception area and children's play facilities. Karoly said. Remodeling will be at the expense of the building owners.

Committee Overruled
Reason for the delay is that selection of the State street building by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Chapman differs from the recommendation of the board's building committee. Reske said. The change in plans was approved at a March special meeting that some directors were unable to attend.

Reske acknowledged that a Chapman has been a board member but said he no longer is a member. Chapman's mother, Mrs. Robert Chapman, is a member and secretary.

The building committee, headed by Reske, said it was overruled.

Support of Sewer Program Urged by Mayor

The city-wide program for sanitary and storm water sewers to be presented to voters in a May 6 bond issue election is outlined today by Mayor Parney in his monthly report to the residents of Granite City.

In his report the mayor stated: "The city of Granite City has received the largest grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development that has ever been released to a city our size for sewage facilities. Matching these funds will provide sanitary sewers in all unserved sections of our city and will also separate our combination system to provide more adequate sanitary sewers and more storm water drainage."

"The committee has set May 6 for a bond issue election of a size that can meet all the city's needs, as we have an excellent chance of obtaining additional grants later."

"In our presentation to the public, we will attempt to show how grouping the various projects will assure benefits for all sections of our community, as well as eliminating the cost of conducting multiple elections. The ballots shall be set up in such a manner that bonds can only be used when federal or state funds are available to defray the cost of construction of these improvements."

Fraughtened Council

"This gift of one and one-half million dollars was made to us because the federal government's study revealed the need and the federal government was convinced that the citizens of this community had reflected a responsibility attitude towards their community, by our workable program and by the extensive study of our needs which had been provided for the city by the city council and by a committee of responsible citizens."

"It has been made clear to this administration by the federal government that grants will be available only to those communities who positively demonstrate their willingness to help themselves. The federal government now seeks this proof in the bond election."

"For too many communities are seeking the very limited federal funds available for these improvements. If we accept the offer by approving the bond issue, we will stand in a good position for future grants. If we refuse the present grant, the federal government will favor other communities, and the sanitary sewer relief we seek, and the storm water drainage we need will be paid for 100% by our citizens, while other cities will be paying 50%."

"If we refuse this gift, it is possible that it would take a major epidemic or disaster to attract the attention of the federal agencies again."

"What the city is offering to us on May 6, 1967 is a bargain, and a solution to a serious problem facing this community."

"Be sure and go to the polls, May 6, 1967."

Optimists' Student Trophy To Honor Russell Johnson

Granite City Optimists gave unanimous endorsement Thursday to a proposal by Charles E. Hoskins III, Granite City Army Depot commanding officer.

In other business, club members voted to purchase an air conditioning unit for the YMCA auditorium and a film-strip projector to be presented to Co-ordinated Youth Services. Dons of the latter equipment will enable the youth organization to better explain its programs to the community and to teenage groups, members were told.

"The principal objective of the YMCA is to enrich the lives of our young people," Charles Hoskins, YMCA youth director, told the group. He explained the "Y's" services to youth essentially are divided into three categories—the youth department, kindergarten through eighth grade levels; junior high programs, appealing to the seventh, eighth and ninth graders; and Teen Town activities for ninth through 12th grade age levels.

Daily activities between 4 and 7 p.m., including swimming, special interest classes and gymnastics, are arranged for the young people. Hoskins said, while junior-high age youngsters enjoy open house and dance sessions on Friday nights and other special evening activities.

Pointing out that "Y" programs are not confined to the local area, the director said seven young people, representing the local "Y," attended a recent conference in Carbondale on youth problems.

He added that a delegation of 12 teenagers sponsored by the YMCA is planning to travel to Springfield to participate in "Youth in Government" programs on April 27, 28 and 29. Currently, he explained, members of the delegation are drafting several bills which they hope to introduce and get passed by the Youth in Government legislature.

Twenty-nine members were present for the meeting.

UP Executive Group To Meet Tomorrow

Tomorrow's organizational meeting will be at the Rose Bowl to conduct miscellaneous items of business.

New members on the committee include an industrial executive, a doctor and a lawyer.

Dow Chemical Co., who last year headed the industrial employees' division of the fund campaign; Dr. Felicia D. Koch, who is a past vice-president of the UP board and who for the past five years has headed the medical section of the professional division and also has served on the admissions and distribution committee, and Irvin C. R. Rhemus, 614 Lincoln avenue, also at a cost of $4000.

Jay Maurer, city street superintendent, was instructed to inspect a new machine purchased by Granite City that rehabilitates street signs which are in bad condition.

Hartman told the council he had seen the machine, which cost about $200, and that it reshapes damaged signs and "makes old street signs like new" at a cost of little more than $4. Present cost of recutting such signs is $13 and up, he added.

Hartman suggested that Venice might adopt the plan and gain a substantial saving, particularly since all Venice signs now need recutting.

He said the board is unanimous that some move will be necessary in order to provide additional space.

number of traffic deaths thus far this year, compared to a total of eight for the same period a year ago.

The 490 traffic accidents this year include 170 in January, 143 in February and the 177 in March, while this year's 236 injury cases include 89 in January, 97 in February and the 90 last month. Fatalities include one in January, two in February and the two last month.

Local Teacher's Husband to Get Silver Star

A Silver Star Medal is in the offering for Chaplain John Szilvassy, husband of Mrs. Linda Szilvassy, for his quick thinking in saving the life of a badly wounded medic in Vietnam during a Viet Cong mortar attack.

Mrs. Szilvassy, a teacher at Coolidge junior high who is residing here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pando Markuly, 2012 Delmar avenue, was advised of her husband's heroic act last week.

The chaplain, who is a captain, performed mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and applied pressure to neck wounds to save Steve Jaros after the medic's bunker had taken a direct hit at a base camp west of Pleiku. Capt. Szilvassy's bunker was next to that of Jaros. The two men, both residents of East Chicago, knew each other from Chicago.

70 shells lobbed in the attack occurred in the early morning hours of March 14, when without warning, a Viet Cong unit crept within mortar range and began lobbing the first of 70 projectiles on the encampment.

One of the first shells landed among an American mortar crew just 15 yards from Jaros' bunker, and the wounded began calling for help.

Jaros and his platoon sergeant were preparing to leave their bunker for the mortar crew hit when an enemy round exploded at the bunker entrance. Chaplain Szilvassy heard shouts that the medic's bunker had taken a direct hit and ran from his shelter through the barrage to find the sergeant lying outside and Jaros at the entrance.

Critical Wounds
Jaros had suffered shrapnel wounds to his face, throat, side and both legs. His left knee was shattered.

In a letter to the youth's parents, the chaplain wrote, "I called his name; he opened his eyes and recognized me." As the chaplain cradled the youth's head, he noticed Jaros was having difficulty breathing because of internal bleeding from the neck wounds. He prevented Jaros from choking by administering mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Chaplain Szilvassy, who has served with the elite Special Forces, stayed with the youth until the "dustoff" helicopter removed the wounded to a clearing station.

The Szilvassys have a son, Kevin, 8, who is a second grader at Emerson school. Szilvassy attended Elmhurst College and Eden Seminary in St. Louis. He was ordained in the United Church of Christ.

Other clinics will be held April 22 at the Madison city garage, April 29 at the Venice city garage and May 6 at the Madison city garage.

The offer of free dog licenses will be extended to Venice residents only.

Grand Opening Tomorrow at Expanded Kozzyak's Market

Grand opening celebrations will get underway at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Kozzyak's supermarket, 2800 Nameoki road, marking inauguration of the store's expanded shopping facilities.

Opening of the new addition increases the sales area to 12,500 square feet, more than triple the store's original size.

William M. Kozzyak, store owner and operator, announced that the supermarket will be closed from 2 p.m. today until the time of the opening tomorrow to permit staff members to make final preparations for a "really big day Tuesday." Prices of hundreds of items will be lowered for the special observance, he said.

Among improvements patrons will experience while shopping, Kozzyak noted, are wider aisles, a total of five check-out lanes to expedite order packing, and ultra-modern grocery produce and frozen foods departments.

In addition, customer services, including check cashing, will be better facilitated with inclusion of a new office area.

Widely-known throughout the years for choice meats, Kozzyak reports that special attention has been afforded this department with installation of new meat display cases, a temperature-controlled cutting room, a beefing cooler and a walk-in freezer for home freezer orders. The supermarket employs a total of seven fulltime meat cutters.

As part of the grand opening, patrons will have an opportunity to receive a portable television set, one of four to be given away, together with 1000 grade-A frying chickens, also to be awarded customers.

So many folks are bent financially today that it should be easy to make both ends meet.

GCHS Band to Repeat St. Louis Appearance

A repeat invitation to perform prior to the annual Bach Spring Festival at the Kiel Opera House, St. Louis, May 7, has been extended to the Granite City high school concert band from the Bach Society of St. Louis.

Participating in the festival for the first time last year by special invitation of William Heyne, musical director and founder of the area Bach Society, the local band students again will perform the Bach Chorales in the Opera House foyer, prior to the start of the 7:30 p.m. concert. Louis Meek, instructor, will direct the local ensemble.

The 27th annual festival will feature the 100-piece choir and 50-piece orchestra of the St. Louis Bach Society presenting The Mass in B Minor by Johann Sebastian Bach. Solists for the program will be Patti Thompson, soprano; Jonathan Riggs, tenor; Inci Basarir, mezzo-soprano; and Malcolm Smith, bass.

Regarded as the greatest of five choral works composed by Bach and one of the finest ever written, the B Minor Mass was begun in 1733. However, a complete performance of the work was not given until 1894, fifty years after the composer's death.

Tickets for the concert, which will be on sale at the Kiel Auditorium box office and at the Aeolian Co. ticket office, 1004 Olive street, St. Louis.

Venice Seeks to Solve Problem of Gang Gatherings

Venice police and city officials will meet in special session Wednesday at 7 p.m. to discuss the "growing seriousness" of youth gang gatherings and street fights in North Venice and to find ways to curb such activities.

The meeting was called by Mayor John E. Lee following a half-hour discussion of the problem, primarily by Fourth Ward Alderman Charles Hampton, in Friday night's regular Venice council meeting.

Hampton told the council that unless remedial steps are taken, the city is headed toward serious trouble. Scheduled to attend Wednesday's meeting are Mayor Lee; Hampton; Aldermen George Mangiaracino, Oscar King and Arthur Means of the council's Police Committee; Chief Frank DeWitt and Assistant Police Chief John Essington. Mayor Lee told the council that he will instruct the police department to "put a man on a beat" in North Venice, particularly on weekends, until some solution of the problem can be determined. Venice police have not employed "beat" patrolmen since all officers were assigned to patrol duty in squad cars.

Four youths arrested The matter was brought before the council by Hampton with reference to last weekend's gang fight at Calhoun and Weaver streets, where an estimated 200 youths gathered.

Four youths were arrested then for refusing to obey commands of police officers. At one time, Venice police were called in and assistance of the Madison police department was requested.

"This isn't the first time this has happened and it won't be the last," Hampton said.

Director of the city of King, King said, "We are the aldermen of the ward and it is up to us to do something about it. I talked to you about this before and begged you to go with me to the mayor to see what might be done. Now the time is here and something has to be done about it or we are headed for serious trouble."

Comments Police Hampton commended the Venice police department for its handling of the affair last weekend.

The alderman said he arrived on the scene after the large crowd had gathered and commented that "alcohol may be a big part of the trouble. I smelled alcohol . . . a lot of alcohol."

Mayor Lee said the unrest can be alleviated only by determining the cause and that this should be the first objective of city officials. Stepped-up enforcement of the curfew law, use of special police as beat patrolmen, providing a program of recreational activity and possible construction of a recreation center were discussed as potential steps toward a solution. The council agreed to discuss the matter in more detail Wednesday night.

Three Area Couples Get Divorce Decrees

Vast 'Community' Project Proposed For SIU-SW Area

Plans for development of approximately 900 acres of land near SIU-SW into a suburban community complex, including student housing, were announced Thursday night by Edwardsville Southern Illinois Communitage, Inc.

First public announcement of the program, which has been in the making for the past two years, was made by Louise E. Morris, president of ESIC, and Charles C. Morris, president of Architectural Associates, Inc., at a meeting of the Madison County Home Builders Association at Collinsville.

The program is set up to give all contractors who wish to do an opportunity to build homes within a designated area according to the ESIC master plan. Architectural Associates is handling the master planning for ESIC.

Extends to Campus
The area proposed for development lies along Tanyard Hills at Illinois Route 157, along the valley behind Grandview subdivision, extending from the south to a point adjacent to Southern Illinois University's Southwest campus.

Morris told the meeting the project was conceived to "fulfill the demand for a total suburban community whose need is created by the burgeoning recreational, industrial and educational complexes" of the area.

Initial phase of development will cover 72 acres and will start soon, he said. Phase Two of 114 acres also is being planned.

The total project will include single family and apartment dwellings, schools, churches, restaurants, medical buildings, student residence halls, financial institutions, a regional shopping center and an industrial research area. More than 12,000 persons eventually will live and work in the area, the group was told.

Critical Housing Need
Morris pointed out that rapid expansion of the SIU-SW complex has created a critical need for housing, with an eventual enrollment of 18,000 students estimated by 1970. He noted that estimates by recognized planners indicate an increase of Madison county population from its present 250,000 to nearly a half million by 1985.

ESIC will be a public-owned corporation, Morris said, with a public stock sale planned as soon as some remaining details are worked out at Springfield.

Morris said grading of roads for the area will begin within the next 60 days. He hopes to annex the development to the city of Edwardsville.

It's Great to Have Both Top Value Stamps and Low Prices Says Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh

"We first shopped at Kroger at Wheeling, West Virginia — and when we moved to St. Ann it was natural that we'd shop here, and we have for four years. The people are so friendly; the quality is always as good as the friendly service. I always thought the Kroger prices were reasonable, but these new 'lightning low prices' are really something. I think I'll save even more with these prices plus the extra bonus of Top Value Stamps. I certainly like Top Value Stamps — and it's great to have both stamps and low prices."

Several up-coming events at Tony's restaurant, 3240 Nam-eeki road. The event will feature a appearance by Oliver Caldwell, dean of the International Service Division at SIU-Carbondale and a noted author on China.

County Farm Bureau Sets Series of Meets

The Madison County Farm Bureau is expanding its program to make it easier to meet the needs of farmers in the county. It will hold a series of community hearings, with representatives of the bureau's legislative committee to be present to hear from any member who has an idea for something the Farm Bureau should be doing.

A hearing in Chautauque township will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Charles C. Lash home, Rural Route One, East Alton. If a member can't appear in person, he may send or phone the information he is concerned about to the Farm Bureau office.

Harold Gindler, county president, said it could be anything from a hole in the road to the direction of international trade to the services he may receive as a member. Areas where new services should be made available for better rural living and farm profits also should be mentioned.

The program will reach its completion in the adoption of policy for Farm Bureau on the county, state and national levels. Persons who appear at the meetings may include suggested solutions to the problems, Gindler said.

Men Attempt to Extort Payment for Medicare

Two men described as well-dressed and representing themselves as insurance agents attempted to obtain a $10 "monthly payment" for Medicare insurance from Mrs. Katy Giuka, 815 Washington avenue, Madison, according to a report by Madison Police.

Mrs. Giuka told police Thursday afternoon that the men at first asked her for $10 as a Medicare payment but later reduced the amount to $7.50. Mrs. Giuka said she told the men she would have to talk it over with her sons before acting in the matter, and asked the men where she could reach them.

The man who did most of the talking said they were from the "National Agency" and gave her an address which, police said, is that of a downtown Granite City tavern. The man who talked to her gave his name as "Ben Franklin," Mrs. Giuka said.

Receives Promotion
Cpl. Michael Krauskopf, whose wife, Cheryl, resides at 2324 Washington avenue, was recently promoted from private first class in Vietnam where he has been stationed since November. ## 2 Local Sailors Return To Vietnam Area Duty

Seaman Apprentice Dennis L. Kelley, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Kelley of 1810 Madison avenue, and Fireman Apprentice Philip L. Lance, USN, son of Mrs. Mina E. Lance of 4407 Kirkpatrick Homes, have returned to Vietnam after 10 days of rest and recreation in Sasebo, Japan, as a crewmember of the attack aircraft carrier Hancock.

While in Sasebo, the crew of the Hancock used their rest and recreation time hard at work. They did not tend boilers, launch planes or do any of their normal shipboard tasks, but spent their time repairing the World Missions Orphanage in Sasebo.

Spring Training For Bike Riders

Before you permit your young child to start riding his new bike to and from school be sure that he is prepared to ride safely. Provide your child with a bicycle that is right in size. When the rider has to stretch to reach the pedals, he can't have complete control of the bicycle. Make certain the bicycle is in good mechanical repair at all times.

Observe your child's riding skill and check his knowledge of the rules of the road. Be sure he knows that bike riders are subject to the same regulations, responsibilities and privileges as drivers of motor vehicles.

Durable Press Magic Comes to Bedding
Busy homemakers who read the rave notices on "no-iron" sheets and pillowcases must decide which is more important, wrinkle-free appearance with little effort or durability?

In the matter of durable press clothing, consumers have voted in favor of appearance and ease of care—fewer wrinkles and less ironing. Wrinkles may not be as crucial a factor in bedding.

In a recent U. of I. study, researchers tested abrasion resistance of sheets of varying fiber content but similar thread counts. Bought on the retail market, the sheets were made of 100% cotton percale, 100% cotton percale with a permanent press finish, a blend of 50% cotton and 50% Zantrel rayon percale, and a blend of 50% Fortrel polyester and 50% cotton percale with a permanent press finish.

Tests showed that the durable-press finished sheets made of half cotton and half polyester were most wrinkle free after laundering. As advertised, they start smooth and stay smooth. The 100% cotton sheet was most wrinkled, while the others were not badly wrinkled when taken from the dryer promptly and folded.

When abraded, the all-cotton and the Zantrel rayon and cotton blend lost less weight than either of the sheets with durable press finishes.

Tests for original breaking strength rated durable press sheets lower than the all-cotton or the Zantrel and cotton blend. After laundry and abrasion, the breaking strength of all sheets were less than they were originally. But the strength loss was less in the durable press sheet that contained the stronger polyester fibers.

Although the all-cotton sheet without a durable press finish suffered the greatest percentage of loss in strength from abrasion, its remaining strength was still as great as that of the durable press fabrics because of its higher original strength. This study treated only the effect of durable press finish on abrasion and breaking strength, but oil retentive qualities of durable

Local Optimists to Attend Zone Contest

Kenneth Graham, winner of the Granite City Optimists 1967 "Oratorical Contest," will be well-supported in his bid for top zone honors tomorrow evening by a delegation of 19 local Optimists members and their wives.

Competition at the zone level, the next step in the oratorical ladder, will be held in conjunction with a 7 p.m. dinner meeting in the Stratford Hotel in Alton.

The local youth, who captured first place in zone competition on three previous occasions, also won the local contest last month for the fourth consecutive year. His topic was "Patriotic Citizenship Needs Optimism."

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Graham, 2017 Menley avenue, the Granite City high school sophomore will be accompanied at tomorrow's speaking event by his speech instructor, Mrs. William (Shirley) Foster Stoll.

Winner of the zone contest will be eligible to compete in the district meet May 19, 20 and 21, in Champagne, to be held in connection with the annual Central Southern Illinois Optimist convention.

Careless Driving Charge

press finishes might create problems.

Aid for Families Of Killed Police Officers Proposed

Survivors of local law enforcement officials killed in the line of duty would receive compensation as a result of a bill Congressmen Melvin Price, (D) East St. Louis, introduced last week.

The bill establishes a maximum $25,000 indemnification payable to the surviving family of the law enforcement official whose death occurred while trying to make an arrest while enforcing a federal statute or apprehending a federal felon. The benefits would be paid monthly to the eligible survivor of a law enforcement officer who worked full time.

The U. S. Attorney General's office would handle the claims of survivors. Eligibility would be limited to widows, unmarried children and parents of the deceased.

Rep. Price said he introduced the bill because of the high risk involved to the law officer and the lack of financial security the officer's family has. "Knowing that his earning power could be snuffed out quickly at any time,"

The Illinois Democrat contended that lack of recognition of the law enforcement profession has worked severe economic hardships and discouraged many qualified individuals from seeking a career in the law enforcement field.

"I firmly believe a society's law enforcement apparatus is only as good as what the public is willing to support. Better trained and better paid officers offer a method for improving whatever shortcomings in a exist or are thought to exist."

Fire Destroys Clubhouse Owned by Venice Police

A two-room frame clubhouse on the Mississippi riverfront, owned by the Venice City Police Association, was destroyed late Thursday night by fire of unknown origin.

Firemen said they were called at 11:12 p.m. and the fire was well under way when they arrived. They were at the scene until shortly after midnight. Police used the clubhouse for picnics and barbecues and at one time had a firing range on the site, just north of the recently constructed boat ramp. No estimate of the loss was made.

Area Employment Goes Up 475 in 6 Mos. to 18,798

Granite City PRESS-RECORD Page 22 Mon., April 10, 1967

Employment in the Quad-Cities increased to 18,798 over the six-month period ending Jan. 15, according to reports of 64 local firms submitted to the Granite City office of the Illinois State Employment Service.

Malcom A. Thompson, ISES manager, said the total represents an advance of 475 since midsummer and 1175 since January 1966. Higher work rosters in transportation equipment and federal government accounted for most of the six-month advance.

Brighter conditions in primary metals, food processing and federal government largely were responsible for the one-year up swing.

Correspondingly, unemployment dropped to 1000 in mid-January, or 1000 below the mid-July total and 450 below the mark reached last month ago.

Factory Payrolls Work force adjustments in transportation equipment and primary metals were the driving force behind an increase of 375 in factory payrolls during the last six months, Thompson said. Resumption of normal production schedules, following retooling operations, led to a jump of 1075 in transportation equipment. A layoff of college-age work crews hired during last summer to replace vacationing regulars was largely responsible for a drop of 625 in primary metals.

Seasonal retrenchment in orders of rolled aluminum, along with some advance in the production of railroad castings, also added to the overall decline.

Losses in dairy and grain mill products, coupled with cutbacks in beverages, reduced work rosters in food processing by 50. Thompson said. Other manufacturers reported only minor changes in manpower requirements since mid-summer.

4000 in County Use Food Stamps in March

About 4000 Madison county residents participated in the federal food stamp program during March, purchasing $72,762 in redeemable food coupons. Part of the amount represented bonus, or free, coupons which the recipient's food dollar in the cases of needy persons.

The program permits them to receive a more adequate diet and represents increased business to retail food dealers.

Eligibility is on a household basis. A household is one or a group of related or non-related individuals living as an economic unit, sharing cooking facilities and for whom food is customarily purchased in common.

All senior citizens receiving public assistance who meet the household requirements are eligible. Senior citizens who do not receive public assistance may also participate if their net income does not exceed $138 per month for one individual, $182 per month for two in a household, or $212 per month for three.

Applications may be made with the Illinois Department of Public Aid in Edwardsville.

Work Crews Recalled

Recall of work crews in transportation equipment was the major factor behind the six-month decline of 1000 in joblessness, Thompson pointed out. Higher federal payrolls helped to reduce the number without jobs.

A huge cutback in primary metals did not add to the jobless total because most of those workers returned to school in the fall, Thompson said, but that joblessness would be appreciably lower today if manpower requirements in transportation equipment had not fallen so sharply in the last year.

Granite City's mammoth primary metals industry played a key role in fostering economic growth over the past three years, with seasonal advances seen in the ISES manager said. Work construction and trade.

rolls rose by 6.9% between January 1964 and January 1967. Although the rate is less than half the rate in all other surveyed industries, 14.4%, primary metals is so large that any major cutback in production has far-reaching effects on local business activity.

Growth Uneven

Although growth has been somewhat uneven, third and fourth quarter 1966 payrolls surpassed the totals posted a year earlier. Moreover, manpower requirements in January 1967 indicate that no overall weaknesses are developing, Thompson said.

Employers who were surveyed expect to hike staffing requirements in the next several months, he said, and substantial gains are forecast in primary metals and federal employment, with seasonal advances seen in construction and trade.

The March freight traffic passing through the locks brought to 8,656,035 tons the total amount of freight passing through the canal during the first three months of the year. This is 771,858 tons more than the 7,884,177 tons going through the canal during the same period a year ago.

The Lee Wright Homes Improvement Club is announcing plans to sponsor a special excursion to the St. Louis Police Circus Saturday, April 29, for children living in the housing project.

Meter Income Down; March Lowest Since September

Parking meter fees and fines collected during March totaled $3676, the lowest monthly total since last September, according to a report by City Comptroller Robert Stevens.

Fee collections amounted to $2843 while fines produced $833. In March last year, fees totaled $3539 and fines amounted to $969 for a total of $4508.

The March collections increased to $11,890 the total amount of revenue from parking meters in Granite City during the first three months of the year. The amount is slightly higher than the $11,216 collected during the same period in 1966. In January the city received $4000 in meter revenue, $3511 in fees and $888 in fines, one of the heaviest February collections on record. In January fee collections totaled $1360 and fines amounted to $654 for a monthly total of $2014.

Meters were in operation 27 days in March, providing a daily average income of $136 through out the month. The daily average income in February was $159 and in January was $176.

Income from the city's parking meters has increased substantially during the past year, primarily because of more strict enforcement that has increased collection of fines from a monthly figure as low as $128 a year and a half ago to as high as $1038 collected in February 1966.

Double-Ring Ceremony for Poynor-Brazel Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Judith Ann Brazel and Michael Vernon Poynor took place Saturday afternoon at the Wood River Missionary Baptist Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finazzo, 2720 Saratoga avenue. Mr. Poynor's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Poynor, 2142 Edison avenue.

Rev. Les Candler officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony before the altar decorated with bouquets of white gladiolus, peonies and greenery. The double-ring service was used and a program of wedding music was provided by Miss Rosemary Candler, pianist.

The bride wore a lace gown with a modified Empire bodice. It was fitted and featured long tapered sleeves and appliques of tiny seed pearls. The skirt terminated in a chapel train. A crown of pearls held in place the bride's veil of silk illusion and she carried a nosegay of white gladiolus and lilies of the valley centered with a cymbid-oid orchid corsage. Mr. Finazzo gave the bride in marriage.

Miss Sue Cordell was maid of honor, and Miss Linda Finazzo was bridesmaid. Both young people graduated last year from Granite City high school. The bride, a secretary, is employed in St. Louis. The groom is employed in the payroll department of the Granite City Steel Co.

Miss Donna Burnett becomes Bride of Dale E. Swanson

Second Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Donna Burnett, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Burnett, 2535 Benton street, and Dale E. Swanson, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Swanson of Davenport, Iowa.

Rev. W. L. Showers officiated at the 7:30 service which was followed by a reception in the church social rooms.

Imported scalloped Alencon lace and a sabbina neckline accented the bride's Empire gown of silk organza over peau de soie. The A-line skirt was floor length and trimmed with hand-clipped lace motifs and tiny seed pearls. The hem line and chapel train were outlined with more of the lace and the short ruffled sleeves were of lace over organza. Alencon lace was also used to fashion a rose shaped forward headpiece which held in place the bride's three-yard wide bouffant veil of silk illusion. Each heart shaped petal was outlined with seed pearls.

A white orchid and lilies of the valley were combined in the bride's bouquet.

Miss Regina Wallace was maid of honor, and Miss Linda Burnett, the bride's sister, and Miss Judy Hamilton served as bridesmaid. All three wore sheath gowns of imported chiffon over taffeta with satin ribbon trimming the Empire waists.

The brides were of white Venice lace over colored taffeta with scoop necklines. They were sleeveless with gathered chifon veils giving a train effect in the back.

They wore forward headpieces of leaves and rose buds to which were attached tiered of malle veils. Their bouquets consisted of carnations.

The honor maid was in yellow and the bridesmaids wore lime green.

A little flower girl, Lisa Ann McFarland, wearing a yellow dress and a ribbon in her hair, carried a basket of white rose petals. Timothy Allen Seibold served as ring bearer. Both are cousins of the bride.

Gary Swanson was his brother's best man, and Ralph Burnett Jr., Steve Duffy, George Moore and Terry Moore made up the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After a honeymoon at Tan-Tan-A in the Ozarks the newlyweds will be at home at 529 Thirty-first street, Rock Island, Ill., where the bridegroom is employed as a secretary at the Rock Island Arsenal.

Bird Tappin' at a Window

John W. Allen

Southern Illinois University
From time to time something is said about two kinds of vanishing Americana. One is made up of physical objects like rail fences, log houses, well sweeps, looms, tools and devices no longer in common use. The second type is made up of disappearing customs, practices, beliefs and superstitions.

Although no one expresses a real desire to return to that time when both types were common, there are many who sincerely believe that a knowledge of them could be helpful toward a better understanding of a way of life and thought that has vanished. Such knowledge, they hold, is as valuable as a knowledge of the political, social, and economic beliefs and practices once on parade, and now called history.

This was all started by the visit of a mockingbird that had returned at frequent intervals during the past several days to flutter and tap at a north window. When superstitious beliefs greater away this bird's actions would have aroused the dread and fear of those where the bird came to visit.

The Superstition
Even now one who stood to watch the bird's antics said, "I've heard that a bird tapping at a window is a sign of some approaching event." His remark led to the passing back and forth of several stories and half-forgotten beliefs and superstitions about birds. There once were hundreds of them.

Both of us remembered that a lifetime ago many believed that such tapping and fluttering presaged a death in the family within a year. Both also agreed that if the bird continues to peck and flutter each succeeding November the prophecy will eventually be fulfilled.

Many other saying and superstitions about birds came in for mention. One of these was the old and oft repeated expression, "A little bird told me." It still finds occasional use by someone who has come upon a juicy bit of gossip or a tantalizing secret and doesn't want to divulge its source.

The use of this phrase comes from the ancient belief that birds could understand and even divine human thought and could convey their knowledge to a select few wise or ancient that know just how ancient that belief is. It goes back at least to Biblical times, being referred to in Ecclesiastes and in legends about King Solomon.

Robbing a Bird's Nest
Discussion next turned to bits of bird lore heard in childhood. Two that must have made lasting impressions came early. One was that robbing a bird's nest brought bad luck. Another somewhat like it let us know that a boy who robbed a bird's nest thereby committed a sin. The comprehension of sin might not have been very clear but it sounded like it should be avoided.

The old saying that one could catch a bird by sprinkling salt on its tail was recalled. The writer still wonders if it really would work since his return as a five-year-old for a second shaker of salt met with a decisive 'no' and that scientific venture was not completed. He was left wondering if Mrs. McAden had correctly informed him.

Several bits of lore concerning bluejays were recalled. Among these was the belief that one did not see a bluejay on Friday since for some prior sins those birds were bound on that day to journey to hell with a grain of sand for the devil and to report on the sins and shortcomings of people.

Birds of Ill Omen
It also was recalled that crows were birds of no good repute; that they were robbers and in general were birds of ill omen. They brought bad luck if they chose to roost near a house. The number of crows flying in a group would warn the beholder of the fate awaiting him.

If one was seen flying alone it meant bad luck, but two brought good luck. Three meant health and four wealth, five meant sickness and six death. Bits of mirror dangle by a string kept them from a field, likewise a cross draped with old clothes and wearing a hat at the top of the cross.

Doves came in for many beliefs. If you were standing still when the first one of spring was heard, bad luck was yours for the year. If you were going up-hill it sounded the signal of good luck. It definitely was bad luck to shoot a dove as well as a robin. The cooing of doves gave clues to the loveliness maiden. Only one of such signs is remembered.

Puzzled Maid Gets Answer
The puzzled maid wanting to know how long before a husband would come had only to ask "how long" when the first dove of spring was heard. The number of answering coos told her the years.

Birds flying near the ground, dilling their feathers or taking dust baths foretold rain shortly. The eerie calls of the whistling swallows and owls that hoisted could be silenced by removing the left shoe and turning it upside down. A copper kettle turned upside down was equally effective. A piece of flint laid on a hot stove was a good silencer. A salt sprinkled on a hot stove was a specific for screech owls.

Redbirds (cardinals), bluebirds select few wise or ancient that know just how ancient that belief is. It goes back at least to Biblical times, being referred to in Ecclesiastes and in legends about King Solomon.

State Capitol NEWS

Teenage Historians

More than 2500 history-minded teenagers are expected to take part in all-day meetings sponsored by the Illinois State Historical Society on four Saturdays in April, according to Clyde C. Walton, state historian.

"Labor in Illinois" is the theme of the programs, which will be directed by Mrs. Olive S. Foster, editor of Illinois History Magazine and supervisor of school services for the Historical Society. She will be assisted by local school officials and members of local historical societies.

The meetings, in high schools in Chester, Toledo, Galena and DeKalb, will feature entertainment, slide talks, contests and prizes. Included will be a bus tour of historical sites in each area. This is the fifth year such regional meetings have been held.

Some Park Roads Bad

Road conditions brought about by the constant freezing and thawing have caused many arterial roads throughout state parks and conservation areas to be temporarily closed to public use in many parts of Illinois.

Persons getting spring fever and the urge to be out of doors should contact the park ranger in the area they intend to visit and check on conditions in that particular area. This will save many miles of needless driving if the area is closed.

William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said this condition will probably prevail for the next few weeks and that park rangers have been instructed to close the roads whenever there is a possibility of road damage due to auto traffic.

It's Ramsey for Bluegills

Do you like to catch big bluegills? If you do, Ramsey State Lake will be the place to fish this year. The 49-acre lake is located north of the town of Ramsey in Fayette county.

Fisheries biologists of the Illinois Department of Conservation reported that fishing was good in 1968 when anglers caught an estimated 17,000 fish, and it should be better this year. Bluegills were the most important fish caught, followed by largemouth bass and redear sunfish. Anglers also caught crappie, green sunfish, rock bass, channel catfish, brown bullheads and hybrid sunfish.

The lake was sampled with gill nets, a minnow seine and electro fishing gear last October. Bluegills up to nine inches long were abundant and reduced up to 10 inches were fairly common.

Traffic Deaths Down

Traffic deaths in Illinois for the first 15 days of March are down 21% to 77 fatalities, compared to 97 in the same period last year.

The 1967 death toll now stands at 423, a 9% decrease from the 467 traffic deaths reported during the same period last year.
